

This is to certify that

Angelo Gabriel Pangalos

has been awarded the

Jelf Medal

In 1868, the Reverend Richard Jelf DD retired from the office of Principal of the College which he had held since 1844. His colleagues and friends established the Jelf Medals to commemorate his services to the College. The Medal is awarded to the student who, in the view of the Principal, has most distinguished him/herself during their undergraduate career in the College. In making the award, regard will be given not only to the students' academic proficiency but also to their prominence in the social and athletic activities of the College.

9 October 2006
at the

School of Physical Sciences & Engineering

King's College London

Professor Michael Yianneskis
Head of the School of Physical Sciences & Engineering
King's College London

Student Number: